

WHAT ROLE FOR CIVIL SOCIETY ORGANISATIONS?

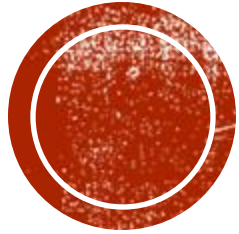

DECOLONISING GLOBAL HEALTH

DEFINING & EXPLAINING

- ECOSYSTEM
- RACIAL & STRUCTURAL INEQUALITIES
- LAID BARE BY COVID-19
- COLONIAL ROOTS OF GLOBAL HEALTH

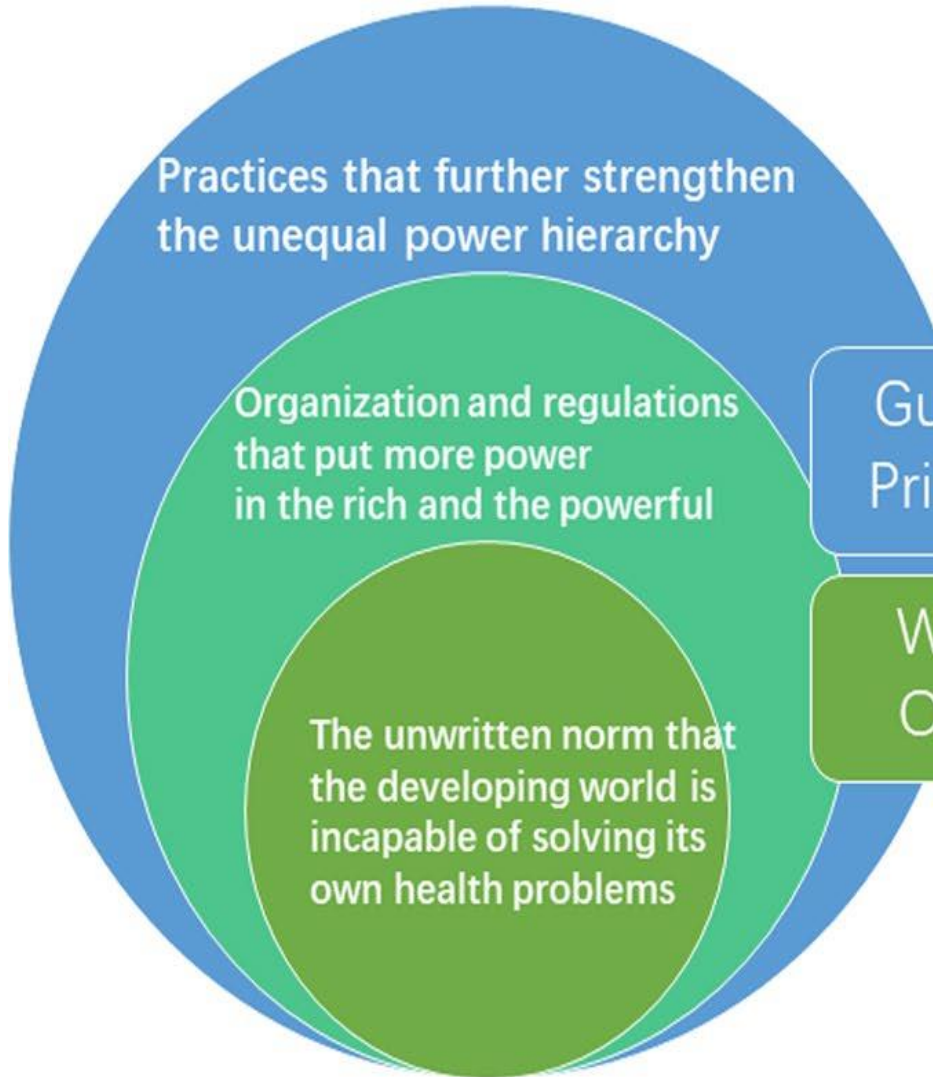

WHAT WILL IT TAKE TO DECOLONISE GLOBAL HEALTH?

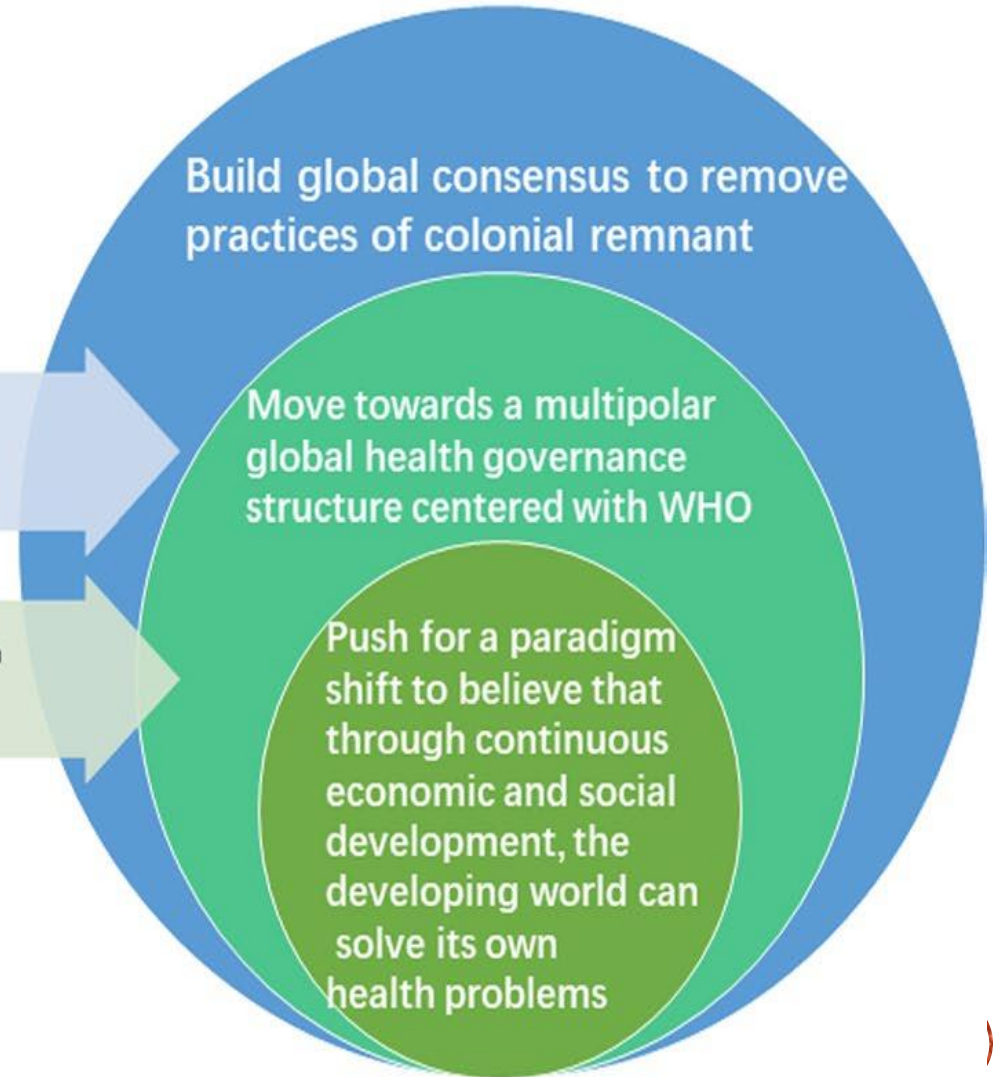

THREE LEVELS OF COLONIAL REMNANTS IN GLOBAL HEALTH & CORRESPONDING SOLUTIONS

Colonial remnant in global health

Decolonizing global health

Guiding Principle

- Peace
- Development
- Human rights
- Justice

World Order

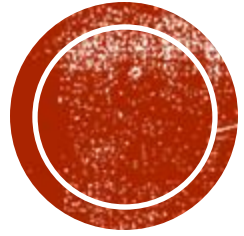

- Multilateralism
- More power by Global South
- Shared prosperity

FUNDAMENTAL MISMATCHES AND THE NEED FOR A PARADIGM SHIFT

- WHERE ARE WE SITTING?
- HUMAN RESOURCE OUTFLOWS
- WEALTH TRANSFER
- WHO HAS THE POWER
- WHO HAS THE SOLUTIONS

TURNING THE PARADIGM ON ITS HEAD

ROLE OF CIVIL SOCIETY

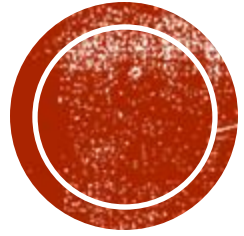

- COMMITMENT
- WORKING WITH WHAT WE THINK WE KNOW, IN OUR SILOS?
- WHO REPRESENTS US?
- WHO ASKS HARD QUESTIONS?
- WHO DO WE LISTEN TO?
- WHO DO WE CHALLENGE?

HOW TO START? GUIDING PRINCIPLE

Health, as one of the fundamental human rights, cannot stand alone without a peaceful and prosperous, inclusive, just and equitable, society.

HOLDING OURSELVES TO ACCOUNT

UNDERSTANDINGS & FRAMEWORKS

- WAYS OF WORKING
- INSTITUTIONAL ARRANGEMENTS
- GOALS
- CONCEPTS
- LANGUAGE

WHAT WOULD SHIFT?

TOGETHER WE CAN LEAD THE WAY

Make global health actually global and shed the legacies of colonialism and racism that leave so many as 'recipients' of our charity rather than 'partners' in our work towards a just and sustainable future where everyone has equitable access to health care across all of our world.

