

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, République du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, République du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, République du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, République du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.

SPEAKERS

Working in Fragile Contexts and Building up Resilient Health Systems Why Do Community Systems Matter?

Verena Wieland, Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland

Verena Wieland holds a master in philology and history, a postgraduate diploma on International Cooperation (NADEL, ETH Zurich) and a Certificate in Advanced Studies on Eastern European Countries (University of Fribourg). Working since more than 25 years in different areas of the international cooperation, she has a broad experience as programme coordinator, team leader and in the field of conceptual and policy development. Her main focuses of interest are community based primary health care, civil society strengthening, organisational development, and development policy. Actually, she is working in the Unit for 'Strategic and Conceptual Development' of the Swiss Red Cross International Cooperation, coordinating the SRC internal learning process on 'Health in fragile contexts' and as advisor for Conflict sensitivity/fragility and development policy. V. Wieland is the vice president of the network Medicus Mundi Switzerland.

Maya Natarajan, IAMANEH Switzerland, Basel Switzerland

Maya Natarajan is a social anthropologist with a master in development and cooperation and working since many years in the field of development and cooperation for IAMANEH Switzerland, first as a program manager and now as managing director. Her regional focus is mainly in West Africa, where IAMANEH is engaged in Mali, Senegal, Bukina Faso and Togo. She has a long-time experience in planning and implementation of health related projects, especially in close collaboration with local NGOs and other actors in the field. Her main experiences and interests lay in the field of sexual and reproductive health, gender and rights, and prevention of violence

Maarten Hofland, Comundo, Belgium

Through a tree-planting project in Namibia in 1995 I became very interested in Africa and its possibilities and challenges. After completing my medicine study at the Free University in Amsterdam and an attachment in Tanzania in 2002, I continued in the subspecialisation Tropical medicine/international health in Amsterdam. From 2005 until 2007, I worked in a district hospital as a general doctor Nikki, Republique du Bénin. After returning to Europe I started a specialisation in obstetrics/gynaecology in Brussels, Belgium in 2008. After completing this I started working for Comundo in Zambia. As a gynaecologist and medical superintendent I was involved in both clinical care, quality improvement mainly obstetric care, management and teaching. In this respect I visited many small centres for technical support. I also started a cervical cancer screening clinic, was involved in implementation of new PMTCT guidelines in the surrounding districts and started a myoma clinic.

Nina Ndabihore, Swiss TPH, Burundi

Dr Nina Ndabihore is currently the Coordinator the SDC funded Santé Grands Lacs programme for Burundi. This programme is providing health sector strengthening support in several provinces in Burundi and Rwanda. As a medical doctor and public health specialist, she has been working before both for the civil society and the Ministry of public health of Burundi, with a focus on HIV/AIDS and Monitoring and Evaluation.

---

Richard Burzynski, UNAIDS, Geneva Switzerland

---

Richard Burzynski has been an AIDS and LGBT activist and advocate since 1985 and has worked at the local, national and international levels. He co-founded the International Council of AIDS Service Organizations (ICASO) in 1989 with other advocates from across the world. In 1999, he served on the Working Group that developed the Global Fund. In 2006, he co-founded the Global Forum on Men who have sex with Men (MSMGF) with other advocates. Richard joined UNAIDS in 2009 and is currently the Senior Advisor on Rights, Gender, Prevention and Community Mobilization and the agency focal point on issues related to sexual orientation and gender identity, and people left behind in the HIV response. At UNAIDS, Richard has been a critical advocate for community system strengthening, LGBT human rights, equality and equity. He has convened and/or led several global consultations, including various global policy and strategy consultations on HIV and human rights issues. In 2014, he developed Equal Eyes - a bi-weekly compilation of global news, stories and updates impacting the health and well-being of LGBT people. <http://equal-eyes.org/> In 2015, he led the UNAIDS effort to develop and endorse an historic joint statement to end violence and discrimination against LGBTI people. 12 UN agencies endorsed the statement.

---

Maximina Jokonya Africaid, Zimbabwe

---

Maximina Jokonya has over eight years' experience in the world of HIV/AIDS. She is currently working for Africaid as a Zvandiri Mentor implementing DREAMS project in Mutare District, Zimbabwe. Maximina draws her experience from being born with HIV. The disease, her family, Africaid and her community have inspired her passion for working with adolescents and young women who are infected and affected by HIV, and encourages the adoption of interventions that eliminate stigma and discrimination. Through her desire to learn about HIV and find ways to help her community, she joined the University of Zimbabwe – University of California San Francisco (UZ-UCSF) Collaborative Research Programme in 2007 as a Community Advisory Board (CAB) member, Community Delegation to the Global Fund, Women Deliver Young Leader, IAS 2016 Global Village and Youth working group member amongst many other representations

---

Zelaikha Anwari Reproductive Health Director, Ministry of Public Health, Kabul, Afghanistan

---

Dr. Zelaikha Anwari, in her professional records has significant contribution to developing of Afghanistan public health system. Currently, she leads and manages the reproductive health programs and projects for the government of Afghanistan, Ministry of Public Health. She contributed in development of to over 40 health policies, strategies and other national guidelines and documents while she served as a Technical Advisor to the MoPH for Policy, Planning General Directorate. In 2012, as a program manager, she led a sub-national program with focus on supporting the Provincial Public Health Offices to strengthen their stewardship roles. Besides that, she directed health programs for International Medical Corps (IMC) in Afghanistan. In that capacity, she led health programs including service delivery and capacity building for 30 health facilities in seven provinces of Central and Southeast regions of Afghanistan. Moreover, she was Capacity Building Program Director for IbnSina, a local organization, where she developed over 20 training curricula, standards and guidelines, and organized short- and mid-term public health and management courses for over five thousand health professionals. Ms. Anwari, an Afghan female physician, holds medical degree from Kabul Medical University and a Masters of Public Health (MPH) from the Institute of Management Sciences of Pakistan.

---

Manjo Basiru Isa, Fairmed/UNHCR, Cameroon

---

Manjo Basiru Isa is the Technical Coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project on Community Health in favour of the Central African Refugees and the local communities in the East, Adamawa and the North Regions of Cameroon. He studied Medical and Cultural Anthropology in the University of Yaounde, Cameroon where he obtained a Master's Degree in 2012 and enrolled into the PhD program in 2013. Since 2008, he has carried out more than 25 surveys on health issues in Cameroon with the UNDP, WHO, WFP, UNICEF, FAIRMED, SNV, MINSANTE, IRESCO, GIZ. In 2012, He was recruited as Monitoring and Evaluation Officer at the University of Montagnes. He was equally a lecturer of Medical Anthropology at Faculties of Medicine and Health Sciences of the Universities of Mbouo, Montagnes and Catholic of Kumbo. In January 2015, he was recruited in FAIRMED as a field officer in the Ndelele health District in the Esat region. By June 2015, he was appointed as the sub coordinator for the Adamawa region with 4 health districts. SINCE January 2016, he was promoted as the Technical coordinator of the FAIRMED/UNHCR project covering three regions in Cameroon. Since then he has been representing FAIRMED and making presentations on the project.

---

Cecilia Capello, Enfants du Monde, Geneva Switzerland (Workshop A Moderation)

---

Cecilia Capello works as a health advisor for the NGO Enfants du monde in the field of Sexual and Reproductive Health. Cecilia is an Italian medical doctor with several years of experience in coordination of health projects in Zimbabwe, Malawi and Sudan.

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero, Handicap International Lyon (Workshop B Moderation)

---

Ricardo Pla Cordero works at Handicap International as Technical Advisor in Inclusion in Humanitarian Action. As development and humanitarian worker he has designed, implemented, monitored and evaluated rights-based approach programmes in recent humanitarian crises such as the Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines, the earthquakes in Nepal in 2015 and the Syrian Crisis, analysing how responses ensure equitable access to essential humanitarian aid and promote dignity, safety, participation and accountability. Mr. Pla Cordero collaborates also in the development of global guidance to promote inclusion, being one of the contributors of the pilot version of the ADCAP Minimum Standards for Age and Disability Inclusion in Humanitarian Action, participating to protection mainstreaming guidance development as a member of the Global Protection Mainstreaming Task Team, and co-chairing the IASC Task Team for the development of the Inter-Agency Standing Committee (IASC) Guidelines on Inclusion of Persons with Disabilities in Humanitarian Action.

---

Helen Prytherch, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Helen Prytherch is Head of the Health System's Support Unit at the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute and has 17 years' work experience gained at all levels of the health system across a variety of countries in Asia, Latin America and sub-Saharan Africa. Her main areas of expertise comprise health system strengthening (including primary health care development), health financing, quality management and human resources/capacity building. Helen oversees a team of 18 staff working from Basel, several of them based in, or undertaking frequent missions to insecure locations for clients including the Swiss Agency for Development Cooperation, Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation, Global Fund, UNICEF and the World Bank.

---

Joëlle Schwarz, Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Workshop C Moderation)

---

Ten years of professional experience in Public Health programme management and operations research in low and middle income countries, with a focus on sexual and reproductive health and primary health care. Academic background in Social Sciences (MA), Development Studies (MDev) and Public Health (MPH). Research experiences in low and middle income countries, as well as with vulnerable groups in Switzerland, using qualitative and quantitative methods. Currently conducting a doctoral research on sexual and reproductive health in the African Great Lakes region, focusing on decision making for and practices of family planning.

---

Lorenz Indermühle Swiss Red Cross, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Lorenz Indermühle is head of the department Africa/America of the department of international cooperation of the Swiss Red Cross. Before that he was working as a project leader in different countries in Europe and Asia. He worked for the ICRC in Afghanistan and in the Balkan, and for different NGOs in Central America. He holds a Master of Science in Development Studies of the School of Oriental and African Studies, London.

---

Jürg Utzinger Swiss TPH, Basel Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jürg Utzinger is the director of the Swiss Tropical and Public Health Institute (Swiss TPH) and a professor in epidemiology at the University of Basel. His research, teaching and training interests pertain to the epidemiology, diagnosis and integrated control of neglected tropical diseases and health impact assessment of large footprint projects in the extractive industries in the Global South. He is engaged in transnational global health research consortia with ongoing collaborative

---

Jacques Mader, Swiss Development Cooperation, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Jacques Mader is the Co-Head of the Global Programme Health at the Swiss Agency for Development and Cooperation (SDC). He has several decades of multifaceted experience of the health sector in various positions and different countries. He has always been more of a practitioner than a theoretician, more of a (critical) user than a producer of research results. Over the years and thanks to his practice in a great variety of contexts he has become increasingly pragmatic. He strives to use his expertise to promote equity in the access to health resources as well as a broader approach on the determinants of health.

---

Rosmarie Quadranti, Member of the National Council, Bern Switzerland (Panelist)

---

Rosmarie Quadranti ist Kauffrau und Zürcher Nationalrätin (Bürgerlich-Demokratische Partei, BDP). Sie ist 2011 im Parlament und Co-Präsidentin der parlamentarischen Gruppe globale Gesundheit. Sie ist Präsidentin der Stiftungsrates der Stiftung Kinderdorf Pestalozzi und lebt in Volketswil.